Civilian guards, with rifles and drawn revolvers, patrolled the city on Sunday, breaking up crowds and arresting suspicious characters. It is announced that 150 persons suspected of being implicated in a bolshevist movement aimed at the overthrow of the government were arrested. Among those under detention are the men who were to hold the offices of president, chief of police and other important positions. Patrols were fired on from buildings during the day, it being charged that Maximilists were guilty. During the evening a "repentant Maximalists" confessed, according to the military authorities, that there had been a plot to destory the Plaza during the night in order to kill a man whose name has not yet been announced. A machine gun company was sent to the hotel which louses the families of several American business men on missions here.

There was limited street car service on Sunday, but all the cars were withdrawn after dark, and all suburban trains were annulled at 9 o'clock in the Censored reports from the interior indicate that the Maximalist movement is spreading to the principal cities, notably Rosario, where a general strike was called on Sunday morning. It was decided in that city to defend the police sub-stations, and all archives and officers were concentrated at the central headquarters. It is reported that several street speakers have been arrested at Rosario and held in solitary confinement. RIOT AT ROSARIO.

The Right Purpose.

Gov. Coolidge of Massachusetts spoke a very wholesome truth in his inaugural message when he said:—"Let there be a purpose in all your legislation to recognize the right of man to be well born, well nurtured, well educated, well employed, and well paid. This is no gospel of ease and selfishness, or class distinction, but a gospel of effort and service, of universal application."

The rights of man cannot be better summarized. Many men are not well born because their parents are incompetents or enfeebled by vice. To give such persons the privilege of being well born requires legislation restricting mental or physical wrecks from cohabitation. Veront has many such cases and until they have been properly restrained altogether too many children will be denied the rights of life.

Bills regulating marriage and cohabitation of incompetents have been introduced and seriously considered by former legislatures, but they have not been en-acted into law. If the incoming legislature could solve this question it would deprived of the right of being well born. Brattleboro Reformer.
